Subject: Microsoft Settlement

As MICROSOFT goes so goes the NASDAQ and hence the Big Board and the whole economy. If government would get out of trying to control free enterprise and innovation especially with technology this country could move forward once again. I would like to see the judge throw out these latest appeals by visibility-seeking attorneys general. They are all on their private power-plays. She should acknowledge that a settlement has been reached with the DOJ and simply rule that it will stand. She could note that the settlement has not had a chance to be proven right and she was ruling to give it that chance now. Winifred Anthony Stearns
